Good morning/afternoon/evening. My name is I work for an independent market research company called Random House Ltd. We are currently conducting a national survey on where people get news and information. Our sample consists of 2,000 interviews selected at random from all parts of the country. Your household happens to be one of such choice and we wish to select at random one member of your family i.e. of the household.

Qa. First of all, how many members are there in your household i.e. living here at the moment. Please include children but exclude visitors and househelps.

Qb. Among these members, how many children are there below 15 years of age?
